—The Oak Grove Sunday school is a number one school. The following are the officers: Superintendent, R. S. Johnson; Secretary, Miss Edna Skinner; Treasurer, Miss Jessie Meade; Librarian, Miss Kiss Johnson; the teachers are Mrs. John Taylor, Miss Minnie Plummer and Mrs. Lizzie Cooksey.

—The county court records show the appointment and confirmation of Frank L. Zeller as deputy county clerk. The appointment is a most excellent one from any view point. He is not only a most excellent Republican, but he is thoroughly capable for the satisfactory discharge of the duties of the office. We must congratulate Clerk Welty, the court, as well as Mr. Zeller.

—While we are truly glad to hear of the improved condition of Judge Craig, his condition is such that he feels he will not be able to reside at the May term of the Atchison county circuit court, and either Judges Anthony, Burns or Alexander will likely preside. A grand jury was ordered by Judge Craig, for the Atchison county court. He has returned home from Iowa City, Iowa, where he was under treatment.

—A correspondent of the Maryville Tribune has been collecting some hog statistics. J. H. Preston, of near Skidmore, has 11 sows which have had 126 pigs this year, of which 92 are living. As yearlings they would sell for $2,000. August Neuffer, in the same neighborhood, has one sow which in 10 years more 165 pigs, of which 152 have been raised or are maturing, and she is almost due to have another litter. But Lon Lant, of Atchison county, lays these records in the shade with a story of one of his sows which had 35 pigs in 13 months. As yearlings these pigs at present prices would be worth $900—fair receipts from the producer of the sow in a little more than a year.

A $5,000 Silk Dress.

A man was making application for a $10,000 policy. His wife called him into an adjoining room. He came back alone and made application for only $5,000. Within six months the man died, and the agent paid the widow $5,000. She said: "This might have been $10,000 had I not wanted a silk dress the day you called to insure my husband."

—Have you tried Geo. F. Seeman's new flour? It is fine. If you haven't tried it, and want fine bread, you should do so. All of this flour is made of old wheat.

—Surveyor Krusor, of Atchison county, was here Friday last and looked on at the bridge men making their play at "competition". The bridge builders in this section have a most complete combination, and we know of none that surpasses it in effectiveness, unless it is the meat packers' combine.

—The Sunday morning and evening train on the Hopkins branch has been abandoned by the Burlington management, which deprives Maryville and other stations' people of their Sunday papers, and the Maryvilleans are howling loud and long—and we don't blame them. But in the language of Vanderbilt, "what are you going to do about it?"

—The many friends of W. Ed and Maude Fiegenbaum in Oregon and vicinity, were indeed sorry to learn of the death of their little baby boy, aged five months, Friday evening of last week, May 8, 1903, at their home in Geneva, Neb., and extend their heartfelt sympathy. Mr. Robert Montgomery and wife left Saturday to be in attendance at the funeral.

—Every man from Platte county who attended court in Holt county last week commented upon the absence of wheat fields up there. It looked so strange to them not to see the fields of waving green, that they could not refrain from commenting upon it. The Holt county orchards, however, appeared to be in much better condition than the orchards of this county.—Platte County Gazette.

—The following young people attended the county convention of the Christian Endeavor Society held at Maitland last Saturday and Sunday, May 9th and 10th, 1903: Etta and Bonnie Green, Olive and Jennie Carr, Daisy Alkire, Dora Bridge, Lois Richards, Bessie Meyer, Clyde Ruley, Frank Castle, Frank, Bert and Pearl Lynch, Whit Maupin, Myrtle French, Ella O'Fallon and Maude Partidge. All report a most enjoyable time.

—It is not surprising that some unique and very foolish views should have been expressed by speakers in the Good Roads convention, says the St. Louis Star. One thing, however, was very manifest—the sentiment was universally in favor of good roads, and the proceedings of the body were characterized by sound sense. Talk is all right, but sooner or later, it will be discovered that talk won't build roads—cash is the only thing that will accomplish that good work, and that can only be had by taxing the lands through which the roads run in proportion to the benefits derived. Ohio years ago set the example and today she has the most complete system of roads of any state in the Union. While the roads were in course of construction there was much kicking upon part of the land owners, but the roads were built, and in every instance the lands were enhanced in value to the full extent of the taxes levied, and today no land owner in the Buckeye state would surrender his good road and take back the money invested, even with a good rate of interest added.

—For a strictly first class coffee go to Geo. F. Seeman's.

—Miss Myrtle Pennell is visiting with relatives in Elmo, Mo.

—Clark Philbrick and wife and son, Fred, were visiting relatives in St. Joseph.

—Dr. Thatcher reports a fine girl baby at the home of Charlie Markt, born May 8.

—Clyde (Patsy) Baker was an over Sunday visitor with his best girl in Skidmore.

—John Peret of the Burlington engineering department, spent Sunday with his relatives here.

—On the 11th inst a little sister came to gladden the home of R. S. Perkins and wife, and little Cecil is delighted.

—Corbon Cotton struck town one day last week, and Blanch and Corbon Markland were correspondingly happy.

—W. C. Proud, Ph. G., M. D. Residence, first door south M. E. church phone, 78. Office over C. O. Proud's drug store, phone 103.

—Mrs. Sarah Frederick, of Savannah, who has been visiting with friends in Oregon for several days, returned to her home Tuesday of this week.

—Miss Minnie Rostock has gone to Denver to accept a position as stenographer. She will return in time to take charge of the Walnut Grove school in the fall.

—Just as sure as Mrs. Geo. Hogrefe goes on a visit to her people at Craig, just that sure you can count on George having business at Craig the following day or two. He says he gets lonesome. They have returned now from a visit at Craig.

—Having secured the agency for The Equitable Life Insurance Co., of New York, I respectfully solicit your Old Line assurance. Will be pleased to call and explain our policies for the asking. JAMES H. MEYER, JR., Mound City, Mo.

—J. A. Criswell has sold his residence property on State street, which he recently purchased of Geo. A. Black, to Dr. B. T. Quigley, physician and surgeon, of Oregon, who has decided to locate in Mound City. Dr. Quigley will move here June 1. The doctor favored us with a pleasant call Friday. He is a very agreeable gentleman, and is a man of goodly presence. He has been practicing successfully for 12 years.—Mound City News.

—Rev. James McFarland has been called and accepted the pastorate of the Presbyterian church of this city and Woodville. He had the work of one of the Presbyterian churches of Denver, Colo., for eight years, and our people may congratulate themselves on securing him for his charge. He is a strong, able minister, and we trust his coming may be of great benefit to his church and all our people. His family, now in Chicago, will join him in the near future.

—The Burlington freight, north bound, due at 1:40, jumped the track a mile south of Maitland Monday afternoon, and piled five cars in the ditch. No one was seriously injured. The train was a heavy one, and coming down the grade at that point at a lively rate when the accident occurred. Just in front of the way car was a heavy car of oak lumber and a car of coal. It is thought that these were so heavy that they spread the rails, as the track was rather soft and the ties somewhat decayed.—Maitland Herald.

—A telegram came Monday evening announcing the sad and sudden death of Herbert, the eight year-old son of Henry and Caroline Meyer, at Nebraska City, on May 11th, 1903, by being run over by the cars. The unfortunate lad with several companions was on his way home from school at noon Monday, and attempted to cross the railroad track ahead of the Omaha passenger on the Missouri Pacific. His companions escaped, but Herbert was struck by the pilot of the engine and thrown into the ditch. He died in about five hours. George Greiner, a brother, and Mrs. Frank Watson, a sister of Mrs. Meyer, left on the first train to attend the funeral.

—The general assembly of the United Presbyterian church of North America will meet in Tarkio on the 28th day of May and continue in session until June 3. The assembly is composed of representatives from every presbytery of the United Presbyterian church in America, and also from its mission fields in India and Egypt. One half the number of delegates are from the lay eldership and one half from the ministry. The number expected to be present in attendance, including missionaries and officers, will be two hundred seventy-five to three hundred. Those delegates will come from the states so far East as Vermont and Ontario, Canada, and so far West as the Pacific coast. There will also be present a fraternal delegate from the Associated Reformed Presbyterian church of the South and representatives from the Freedmen's work in the South.

—We extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hibbard, in the loss of their eight months' old daughter, which occurred Sunday last, May 10, 1903. Interment in the Brodbeck cemetery on the following Monday.

—Fred Parrot was stricken with paralysis Monday afternoon at the home of his son-in-law, W. H. Holderman, and was speechless for some time, and also suffered a slight mental aberration for a few minutes. He had been working in the garden alone at the time and when discovered was sitting on the ground. It is not known how serious or how permanent the effect may be.—Mound City News.

—Lon Wyman suffered quite a severe injury last Friday. While driving a short distance south of the city, the wagon in which he and another gentleman were riding struck an obstruction. Both were thrown backward out of the seat, and in falling Wyman's forehead struck a nail. The skin and flesh were quite painfully cut. He was brought to the city and the cut sewed up. The wound was sufficiently healed by Tuesday to take out the stitches, and Mr. Wyman will soon be all right again.—Maitland Herald.

—George W. Cotton and Miss Cora Evans, both of Forbes, were married in this city, Tuesday, 12th, inst, by Elder Bickel, of the Christian church. After the ceremony they drove to Forbes, where the groom has a handsome cottage, elegantly furnished, and they immediately went to living. Both the contracting parties are so well and favorably known to all our people that extended comment is unnecessary. The bride was formerly the postmaster at Forbes and made a splendid official, and doubtless will make a splendid wife. The groom everybody knows and everybody likes George Cotton; he is a retired farmer and able to take the remainder of his days in ease and comfort, and like a sensible man he has taken a life partner to enjoy those comforts with him. May they both live long and always be happy.

—Charles M. Hughes, 24 years of age and married, living about seven miles southeast of this city, on Tuesday last, took his target rifle and went out to do some killing—crows and "sich." He had occasion to take a chew of tobacco, and after doing so returned the tobacco into the pouch and proceeded to ram it down into the hip pocket of what he supposed was that of his overhauls, but somehow he missed connections, and the pouch proceeded down one of his legs. This annoyed the young man; in fact he thought some kind of a varment was seeking to devour some part of his anatomy under cover, and it so excited him that he evidently dropped the gun barrel downward and must have pulled the trigger—any way the gun went off and a 22 long caliber cartridge found its way into the instep of his left foot. He was brought to town and Dr. Simmons sent out some of his feelers and after locating the ball, he removed it, sewed up the wound and the young man is now at home getting along nicely.
